

Jenne Burns

Jenne Burns has been practising kinesiology since 1992 and a member of the AKA since 1995, currently a level 6 practitioner member. She is also an AKA mentor and Student Clinic Supervisor. She is a retired nurse and midwife, and incorporates homoeopathy into her practice.

Jenne is an ordinary member on the AKA management committee and is happy to continue in the committee to represent the voice of the members.

Jenne has been a Director of Kinesiology Schools Australia since its inception in 2002. Working as the secretary from the beginning has given Jenne valuable corporate experience that translates to getting the job done quickly and efficiently. She runs a kinesiology college in South East Melbourne and has been teaching various streams of kinesiology since 1995.

Jenne has a good knowledge of the compliance issues faced by colleges and the kinesiology industry and she brings experience, integrity and passion for kinesiology to the committee.
